

Natalie Portman-Marsh, LCSW, Senior Project Manager

Natalie Portman-Marsh is a Licensed Clinical Social Worker (LCSW) in New York and Colorado with 15 years experience in the mental health field as a clinician, program manager, and community planning facilitator. She has worked within non-profit, faith-based, and community mental health organizations, as well as with community coalitions and statewide planning groups. Her work has offered opportunities to engage consumers, staff and stakeholders from faith based, mental health, schools, juvenile justice, child welfare, older adult, and rural service systems. Natalie has provided strategic planning and facilitation for initiatives through Colorado foundations and provided project management in rural and metro settings addressing health and access concerns. She has presented at national conferences on school based health, suicide and trauma and has been a conference coordinator promoting a national model to improve communication between clients and staff in public serving social systems. She has also been adjunct faculty at the University of Denver, Graduate School of Social Work for eight years and is a recent graduate of the Denver Community Leadership Form. Natalie has offered numerous volunteer hours on the Colorado System of Care Collaborative, Mental Health Planning and Advisory Council's Child and Family Subcommittee and within the Jewish community.
